

PROTEST ACTION

Two months and no changes since the Richmond City Council passed a unanimous resolution asking Cal EPA to provide better environmental oversight of the extremely toxic sites at the Zeneca/Cherokee-Simeon/Campus Bay and UC Berkeley Field Station along the South Richmond shoreline. Cal EPA is dragging its bureaucratic feet in making the jurisdictional change from the Water Board to the Department of Toxic Substances Control.

Wake up call!

7-8 a.m. Friday, April 29, 2005

Where: South 47th & Meade Streets, Richmond, CA
Bay View exit (West) from I-580

Join concerned local city officials, local physicians, Richmond Progressive Alliance, West County Toxics Coalition, Bay Area Residents for Responsible Development, the Sierra Club, Mothers Against Threatening Toxics Emissions in Richmond, the West Contra Costa /Alameda Chapter of the National Autism Association, and many other groups and individuals who are demanding strict oversight of health and safety standards designed to protect the community during and after cleanup of these former industrial sites.

This is something you can do with neighbors, friends, and colleagues to show our government officials we are serious about wanting strict on-going protection. One week after Earth Day, make your position known. Most people won't miss too much work. Dress warmly – consider gloves. Lots of parking available. Signs and handouts will be provided or bring your own. Megaphones and chants. Restrooms available at local businesses a few of blocks away.

JOIN YOUR NEIGHBORS TO SAY

Cal EPA WAKE UP!
